1. Core HR, Personal & Motivational Questions (25 Questions)

The opening 5 minutes make or break your interview. Master structure, authenticity, and brevity.

Question #	Question Prompt	Evaluation Objective	Recommended Answer Framework
Q01	Walk me through your resume / Tell me about yourself.	Executive presence, chronological storytelling, career logic	Chronological: Past foundation -> Present achievements -> Future MBA catalyst (under 90 secs)
Q02	Why do you want to pursue an MBA at this specific point?	Career inflection point, skill gap identification, goal clarity	Present role ceiling -> MBA toolset acquired -> Short-term post-MBA target role
Q03	Why this specific IIM over other top business schools?	School knowledge, cultural fit, specific electives/professors	Mention 2 specialized electives, 1 faculty research lab, and 1 student-run initiative
Q04	What are your short-term and long-term career goals?	Pragmatism, industry awareness, 5-10 year ambition	Short-term: Specific function/industry (3-5 yrs); Long-term: Visionary impact (10+ yrs)
Q05	Tell me about a major failure and what you learned.	Resilience, emotional maturity, accountability without blame	STAR-L: Situation -> Task -> Failure point -> Ownership taken -> Corrective lesson learned
Q06	What is your single greatest strength and your greatest weakness?	Self-awareness, authenticity, proactive remediation	Strength with metric evidence; genuine weakness with active steps taken to improve
Q07	Describe an ethical dilemma you faced at work. How did you resolve it?	Moral compass, corporate integrity, balanced decision-making	State conflicting loyalties, consultation sought, principled action taken
Q08	If you do not get selected today, what is your backup plan?	Composure, pragmatic determination, continuous learning	Express dedication to role, enhance certifications/impact, reapply with stronger profile

Golden Interview Rule: Never memorize full answers. Prepare bullet point stories using the STAR methodology.

2. Profile-Specific Technical & Domain Questions (Engineers, Commerce, Arts)

Panels test whether you took your undergraduate degree seriously.

Candidate Background	Sample Technical Question Prompt	Expected Level of Depth	Common Trap to Avoid
Computer Science / IT	Explain the difference between Machine Learning, Deep Learning, and LLMs.	Conceptual clarity with real-world architecture examples	Using marketing buzzwords without explaining training/loss functions
Mechanical / Electrical	Explain the working principle of regenerative braking or EV battery thermal management.	Thermodynamic / electromagnetic first principles	Saying "I graduated 3 years ago and forgot my engineering basics"
Commerce / Finance	Walk me through the three financial statements and how $10 depreciation flows through them.	Accounting precision; impact on Cash Flow and Balance Sheet	Confusing Cash Flow from Operations with Net Income
Economics / Arts	How does the RBI repo rate hike combat domestic inflation without crushing growth?	Macroeconomic monetary transmission mechanism	Giving ideological answers without citing CPI/WPI data and GDP trade-offs
Working Professionals	What is the unit economics and revenue model of your employer?	P&L awareness: CAC, LTV, gross margin, main cost drivers	Focusing only on coding/daily tasks without knowing the business model

Undergrad Revision: Review your 3rd and 4th-year specialization subjects thoroughly before entering the interview.

3. Written Ability Test (WAT) Structural Framework

How to write a structured, balanced 300-word essay in 15-20 minutes.

- Minute 0-3 (Brainstorming): Dissect the topic. Formulate a balanced thesis. List 2 supporting arguments and 1 counter-perspective.
- Paragraph 1 (Introduction): Contextualize the prompt with current macroeconomic data; define key terms; state your nuanced stance.
- Paragraph 2 & 3 (Arguments): Provide analytical arguments backed by real examples (corporate, legislative, or historical cases).
- Paragraph 4 (Counter-Perspective & Mitigation): Acknowledge opposing viewpoints and provide policy/technological mitigations.
- Paragraph 5 (Conclusion): Deliver an actionable, forward-looking synthesis. Avoid preachy or emotional clichés.
